[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] OUTTENBURG RACE TRACE, Dec. &-The Sac weather and the splendid array of good things presented in each of the six races by the Rudson County Jockey Club served to bring ters a large crowd to Guttenourg's track this after-

Nothing is more disagreeable than a visit to Guttenburg on a muddy day, but the knowledge that a fair run would be had on the races always induces people to brave all obstacles. The drat race of the day did not prove a good setting event, because there were only a poor lot entered, and there was too much uncer tainty as to the winner. Notwithstanding that he could not run in the mud Brussels was installed a slight favorite over the others, but generous odds could be had throughout th entire betting.

Macauley, the Western colt, it was said, was brought over from Clifton for a hog killing, but the news did not cause him to be backe to may extent. His heavy weight kept the shrewd ones off. Sir Rae was well backed, as was also Kingstock and Sour Mach, but the others carried little or no money. The favorite won as he pleased, pulling up.

Macauley secured the place from Sir Ree, who came very fast at the end.

Lev.lier was adjudged an air-tight by the talent, and they booke, him with an air waich said that it was all over but the shouling. Servitor, however, a noted mitt performer, was very much fancied by a certain divasion of the toict and was a strong second choice, being the miner thread of the service of the last named. Penny riding her well, and collaring Little Fred at the last furning, ster the latter nad made all the running, seat him out a neck. Leveler, the air-light, was third. Sallie islarper opened favorite in the third race, but for some reason the talent sud-enly qut plan light for and she wantactually back to Macauley secured the place from Sir Rae, who

Race-Goers at Clifton at Last Lose Patience.

STARTER LAKELAND RESIGNS.

The patience of race-goers, an almost toexhaustible quantity, reached the limit yester-day. The racing was execution, the starting miserable and the stiftsde of the judges ad-premely indifferent. The starts in all six races were bad. In the third race, fully one-half of the starters were beyond the post before Lake-land decided to give the word to go. Half of the horses were pulled up when the fing fell, but nevertheless the word was given, and off they went, stragging out over a distance of a sixteenth of 1 mild.

When the race was finished the people blased and clamored that the race to declared off.

They were right in tasir claims, but the judges jut on a severely dignised air and took no notice of their patrons. They hald the race was a fair one and it stood. In the first, third and fifth races the chahees of the favorites were killed by the start. It beats very much shility to make four men extremely nappy and ten times that number acutely interable by disposing of four Police Justiceships.
